

Leslie Lipper: Bio

leslie.lipper@fao.org Te. +39 06 570 55342

Leslie Lipper is a senior environmental economist in the agriculture and development economics division at FAO. She has worked there over the past seven years developing a program of research on natural resource economics and poverty reduction program.

Leslie is the lead author of the FAO State of Food and Agriculture report 2007 focussing paying farmers for environmental services. She received a doctorate in Agricultural and Natural Resource Economics from the University of California at Berkeley in 2000. She has an undergraduate degree in political science and a master's degree in international agricultural development from the University of California at Davis. Leslie worked for several years as consultant for FAO, IFAD and World Bank on designing agricultural development and poverty reduction programs, primarily in China and Vietnam. She was Fulbright Scholar in Brazil in 1998-99, and a volunteer English teacher in Beijing China in the early 1980's.